Radiation Therapy Clinical Observation Form

Documentation of Clinical Observation

Directions: Students applying to the IU School of Medicine Radiation Therapy Program are required to document a minimum of eight (8) hours of clinical observation. The program's admissions committee requires that these clinical observation hours be completed at a minimum of two (2) different locations. A separate clinical observation form should be completed for each clinical observation site.

With prior planning, the Radiation Therapy Program can assist students with observation scheduling at any of their eleven associated clinical sites.

This form should be taken with you and filled out by the radiation therapist at the time of your visit. The original copy should be attached as part of the formal application submitted to the Radiation Therapy Program's Admissions Committee by the Program's December 1st application deadline.

IMPORTANT: Observation hours must be completed by the program's application deadline; they cannot be listed as scheduled for a later date.
