As your pediatric therapy provider, you can count on us for support for your child through adolescence.

Easterseals Crossroads is a First Steps provider of early intervention services for families with babies and young children with developmental delays or disabilities.

As your family ages, we can continue to provide occupational, physical and speech-language therapy to help children grow, develop and thrive. Our summer camps offer unique, fun and interactive experiences; our respite programs provide Friday night care options for children while offering parents and caregivers a well-deserved break.

Easterseals Crossroads has been great; the consistency is amazing. Since we don't know what the future holds, we just know what we can do now and Easterseals Crossroads makes that possible.

Ryder's Story. Ten-year-old Ryder has worked with physical, occupational and speech therapists at Easterseals Crossroads for nine years. Doctors suspected that there would be some difficulties when Ryder was born at 38 weeks, but did not diagnose Fraser syndrome until several years later. Everyday life for the family includes ventilators, oxygen tanks, breathing machines and feeding tubes; a nurse helps care for Ryder during the day. Ryder is just now experiencing the freedom of being off his vent. "We were told that he would never come off the vent during his life, but he has done that," said dad Dustin.
