Advocating For Your Rights

We partner with our legislators and other elected officials to ensure that your needs, rights and voices are heard at all levels of government. As The Arc of Greater Indianapolis, we work tirelessly with organizations like The Arc of Indiana to advocate for the rights and dreams of the people we serve and their families.

Our Core Values

■ People First

All people with intellectual and developmental disabilities are defined by their own strengths, abilities and inherent value, not by their disability.

■ Equity

People with intellectual and developmental disabilities are entitled to the respect, dignity, equality, safety, and security accorded to other members of society, and are equal before the law.

■ Community

People with intellectual and developmental disabilities belong in the community and have fundamental moral, civil and constitutional rights to be fully included and actively participate in all aspects of society.

■ Self-Determination

We believe in self-determination and self-advocacy. People with intellectual and developmental disabilities, with appropriate resources and supports, can make decisions about their own lives and must be heard on issues that affect their well-being.

■ Diversity

Society in general, and Noble in particular, benefit from the contributions of people with diverse personal characteristics. Because we celebrate diversity and foster inclusiveness in everything we do, we do not turn anyone away based on race, ethnicity, religion, national origin, sex, disability, age, gender identity or sexual orientation.

Living The Fullest Life Possible

Noble was founded by parents of children with disabilities like Down syndrome and autism in 1953 because they wanted to provide them with what society would not: an education. While our services have evolved with the changing needs of the 3,400+ children, adults and families we serve each year, our commitment to our community has only deepened. Today, we serve 23 counties spanning Central and Eastern Indiana, with 93% of those services provided in the community: in the homes, schools and places of employment of the people we support as they strive to achieve their dreams.

Impacting Lives Each Day

Everyone, without exception, is deserving of their dreams, whatever those dreams may be and however they may be defined. Good, fulfilling jobs. Friends. Life partners. Achievements. Success. Love. Happiness. Growth. Security. Large or small, grand or simple, our dreams are part of what define who we are as individuals and who we will be through life. That is why every member of our team works together to help each person we serve "Dream It. Live It." every single day.
